

frozen heart. thawing out

By Drew Dockerty

Water trickles and mountains fall, thawing ice tumbles all Blazing radiance, chasing melting all Pristine snow scape at an end, rediscovered tundra in summer bloom Life in action what a reaction, pure lakes and forest berries Things are living what a drive, cycles start and cycles end it's what keeps us trying hard no matter what they drove us around the bend.